President Sukarno of Indonesia has closed two newspapers for anti-communist activities; The Bearded Wood of Cuba has seized, harassed and closed all newspapers that do not chant his theme. All communist governments control the press. Congressman Moser who heads a committee investigating "secret" and "confidential" files of governmental bureaucrats says "Secrecy—the first refuge of incompetency—must be at a bare minimum in a domestic society, for a fully informed public is the basis of self-government."

Movable type had the greatest influence on civilization of any invention in history.

Philosophers and teachers produced a fine civilization in ancient Rome and Athens by teaching a relatively few students by word of mouth, but the general public remained in ignorance and in bondage.

Provisionally, the first book printed from movable type was the Bible and for the first time in history the masses were able to read, to discuss and to interpret for themselves the Word of God.

National Newspaper Week is 21 years old in the United States this year.

But individual freedom in the United States is 169 years old this year.

Our three great freedoms set forth in the Bill of Rights are "Freedom of the Press," "Freedom of Speech" and "Freedom of Religion." The free press of Colonial America paved the way for these freedoms which became fact with the coming into force of the Bill of Rights on December 15, 1791.

These freedoms belong to the people.

They are the property of newspapers, but of all the people... it is their guarantee of the right to know; their insurance against democracy.

"Freedom of Speech" is not the property of politicians and platform speakers, but of all the people... it is their own guarantee of free and unafraid expression of their convictions.

"Freedom of Religion" is not the property of minister, priest or rabbi, but of all the people... it is their guarantee of freedom of conscience and of divine worship in accord with that conscience.

National Newspaper Week is designed to focus attention on these freedoms. A free press is the partner of the people in the effort to preserve their rights.

Newspapers promote National Newspaper Week, not from a selfish motive, but to emphasize these basic and vital freedoms, the partnership of press and people and the need for every one exhibiting dedication and diligence in the eternal effort to preserve these freedoms.

National Newspaper Week this year is October 15-21.

Juvenile Shoplifters Picnic Is Interrupted

Juveniles like brightly painted mechanical toys, ice cream, balloons and candy.

A group of five juveniles not properly impressed with the illegality of filching these items from store counters, have been rounded up by the police and are now subjects of serious consideration by juvenile authorities.

Grant's caught two slipping toys from one of the counters and ended up with one that was not fast enough in the running. He involved another, and that one, apparently the leader "equalled" on others, although he had warned his associates against "telling on him."

With the start given by Grant's who held one for the police, proper handling brought forth the names of other associates.

It was discovered by police that Royal's Case-Rate, and Keith Clark, were among other victims of the "gang."

Michael And Foster Face Opposition

Two of Palm Beach County's three Commissioners face republican opponents in the general election on November 8th.

Both have been County Commissioners for years, and each has served as Chairman of that Board. They have their appeal for votes on their records of accomplishments, and each record is substantial.

Mr. Foster has been in the VFW and Forty & Eight; Civic membership is held in the Florida Club WFN Fishing Club, Kiwanis and County Police Foundation. He is a member of the Masonic Order and a Shriner.

His church affiliation, along with his wife and daughter, is with the First Presbyterian Church in West Palm Beach. "Our county must continue to grow," Foster says, "but this growth must be planned and timed to fit our economic pattern."

"Delayed Justice Often Not Justice"

Judge Richard M. Sauls, democratic nominee to succeed himself as Circuit Judge of the 15th Judicial Circuit, told Lions Wednesday that due to the crowded docket in the Court of Appeals, justice is not only delayed, but comes too late to do the principals any good, in a lot of cases.

The seven Glades precincts have a total of 6,118 democrats and 319 republicans, along with 14 registered other parties.

The county figures show 901 negro republicans; they also show 12,027 female whites against 3,901 male republicans. The democrats seem to carry the women folk along with the old man — there are 35,659 female democrats; there are 4, 118 female negro registrants against 4,041 male.

After removing 12,000 democrats; percentage-wise 15,000 democrats registrants will have to vote for the Republican national ticket to create a tie in Palm Beach County.

If 10 percent of those registered democratic are composed of northern friends who have registered so that they might judge, and they ours.

Lake Harbor Considered For New Postoffice

Postmaster General Arthur H. Summerfield announced today that advertisement has been posted to secure post office quarters at Lake Harbor on a monthly rental basis for a fixed term of five years. Specifications call for a facility containing approximately 1,100 square feet of floor space, 96 square feet of platform space, and 3,500 square feet of parking and truck maneuvering area.

According to Postmaster, Mrs. Billie S. Pope, bids should be submitted to Mr. Carl Bolt, Assistant Regional Real Estate Manager, Post Office Department, 426 Federal Annex Building, Atlanta 4, Georgia. Interested bidders may obtain more detailed information from Mr. F. H.

Postmaster General Summerfield has indicated the need for modernization or replacement of a total of 12,000 of the nation's post offices because of lack of space and obsolescence.

Mr. Summerfield further noted that during the last session of Congress Congressional approval was given to the Post Modernization Program to provide in fiscal year 1960 alone a total of 402 new post offices with several hundred more facilities scheduled for complete modernization in every part of the nation.

"The Lake Harbor Post Office," he observed in conclusion will be a major link in our newly-revitalized and modern postal service, aimed at an ultimate goal of next-day delivery of mail anywhere in the nation."

$3.50 Gator Hides And Venison Go Up

Justice of the Peace Cherry fixed three local young men on two counts of having a "no deer carca" in their possession and of having lights and guns.

$190 fine AND 90 days sentence for the deer and $30 each for the lights and gun, AND 90 days. The sentences were suspended during good behavior.

The Cleveland man who had a "no deer carca" paid $100 each on charges of having gators in his possession AND having lights and guns. The "bad days" on each charge will make the charged one careful of future conduct. The "bad days" on each charge will make the charged one careful of future conduct.

$450 for a small doe deer makes it expensive eating. IF you eat, and $200 plus bond fee, plus attorney's fee makes six three and a half dollar gator skins, quite expensive and you DON'T GET THE SKINS.

Robert's Legislative Abilities Effective On Interim Committees

A record of more appointments to interim committees in the State House of Representatives is one phase of extensive law making experience which Rep. Emmett Roberts, Belle Glade, Fla., has gained since Nov. 8 on the Democratic ticket.

Rep. Emmett Roberts, who has served in the House of Representatives since 1955 and is now the dean of Palm Beach County's legislative delegation, has served on many influential committees during the sessions he has been at Tallahassee, but he considers the work of the interim-committees—groups from both the House and Senate named to work on specific projects between sessions—with giving him a well rounded knowledge of state affairs and the experience necessary to continue to serve as an outstanding legislator for his home county.

"Your Newspaper . . . Freedom's Guardian"

Selected as the basic theme for 1960 National Newspaper Week is the statement "Your newspaper . . . Freedom's Guardian."

We will use only two words "Freedom's Guardian" to illustrate the vastly protective role of our daily and weekly newspapers at a time when we face a change in the federal administration in Washington in the midst of a number of complex issues, both at home and abroad.

How do more than 1,700 daily and 9,000 weekly newspapers in America strive to guard our freedom? We submit the following answers in an attempt to keep the issue confined to the community level.

1. Through accurate and fair recording in the news columns of unfolding developments about events, issues, conflicts, and personalities in this community related to what I believe all of us accept as our single most important objective in this troubled year of 1960 — the assurance of free men in a free society.

2. Through intelligent and meaningful presentation of basic data concerning the controversies, which, in many instances, must eventually be resolved by a decision of you, our readers, and your fellow citizens in the community. We can list all of the problems we face: Traffic safety, prejudice, economic security, education, taxes, juvenile crime, and housing are a few from among many. Where but in the newspaper can we turn for the basic data about them?

3. Through explanation of the current realities that affect our daily living. It has become almost trite to say that we are engaged in a race for survival. Despite this, there is considerable evidence to support the view that the man in the street needs a better understanding of the forces that seem destined to influence the future course of society. If these are properly clarified and explained, particularly in terms of their local impact, much of the present apathy and cynicism would be dispelled.

4. Through instruction in responsible citizenship. This is a serious function of the press which logically follows the three freedom guiding devices just listed. The people of this community, just as in all other communities, must participate

TO THE NEWSPAPERS OF THE NATION

It is a privilege to join in the annual observance of National Newspaper Week.

"Your Newspaper" — Freedom's Guardian" is a timely theme for 1960. This is the year of our national elections, and it is a year of great decisions in lands around the world.

In our newspapers, we expect to find an accurate, responsible and lively source of public information. We live in an "open society" and by reporting the news accurately and promptly to us, our reporters help to keep it open. At the same time, we live in a threatening world where news can be distorted and exploited by the enemies of freedom. So for freedom's sake our newspapers, too, must be zealously guarded by the sentiments of truth and vigilance.

The Bourgeoisie

Prepare For Promotion
By The Countess

Promotions go to employees who view their job as stepping stones to success rather than eight hours a day that pays the bills. Executives keep their eyes on the people who have learned how to get more out of and put more into their jobs. Here are a few tips to prepare for promotion.

1. WATCH YOUR APPEARANCE. When you yook your best, you do your best — be sure to dress right.
2. KNOW YOUR COMPANY. Keep posted on current policy, read the staff and company reports, bulletin boards, etc. Grasp the complete company picture.
3. KNOW YOUR PART. Learn where you fit in the company. Consider the repercussions of not doing your job and you'll soon understand how important you are.

4. ACQUIRE ADDITIONAL. This shouldn't be hard since you were hired because you have what it takes to hold the present position. If you are a file clerk or a receptionist, study shorthand (Evening classes for reviewing shorthand will continue to stay open, 7-10 p. m. on Tuesday and Thursday at Belle Glade High School). Do your job as well that it is clear to your supervisor you are ready to climb to the next rung. The more skills you possess the more important you become to the firm.

5. ASK QUESTIONS. Talk to someone who already knows what you must still find out. If there is something you don't understand ask a person who has been doing the same work longer than you.

6. WORK HARD. A job well done will command more respect all around — you will even respect yourself more.

7. ENTHUSIASM. A man of second rate ability, skill and intelligence — who really believes in his work and can consider it part play — will usually outshine a first man who lacks enthusiasm.

8. WATCH YOUR HEALTH. No one can do his best if his health isn't up to par. Eat a good balanced diet. Get enough rest and exercise. Get a complete check-up once a year; see your dentist as required.

9. HOME WORK. Friction at home means trouble on the job. Work toward a smooth family life. Try to be on time for meals. Do chores cheerfully.
10. KEEP PERSONAL TROUBLES TO YOURSELF. Unwelcome guest family misunderstandings etc. can put you at the bottom of the heap temporarily. Keep your perspective. Worries usually solve themselves. Shrug off petty grievances against those you must associate with and concentrate on your job.

Now roll up your sleeves, concentrate on the job they're beginning to print your name on the executive suite door.

Black Bass Are Biting

Barnes (Sonny) Smith and Bud McMillan had a big catch of black bass when they came in Sunday afternoon. The stringer was filled with the limit, some weighing 2 lbs. on up and several 4 pounders. They didn't say just where they snagged them, maybe it's a secret, but they did give all the fish away.

Rams Take On 'A Big Un' Friday Nite

By Butlerhall

If you want to see a light shift team try to skirt around ends, fling passes and confuse heavy and athletic defensive team come out Friday night to see the Rams and Seacrest's Seahawks tangle.

The Seahawks line averages 186 pounds to the Rams' average 155.

ten-pin notes

The 60-61 season is scheduled to be a bang-up one for Glades Bowling Lanes, as this fine new 16-lane establishment has its league play now under way. Competition is keen and spectator interest high, as the pins go tumbling.

Some couples are still needed for the Friday night mixed league. This is composed of four-member teams of two men and two women. This is a chance for husband and wife, guys and gals, to be together and have a lot of fun while competing in league play.

Martina Brane, Belle Glade, placed third among the top semi-finals Sunday with a 2500, 16 game total at the Florida Bowling Proprietors Association All-Star Tournament at Tropical, Miami.

Sunday evening is the best time right now for bowlers who want to do open bowling. Week days and Saturday have received terrific response and lanes are more readily available on Sunday evening with little or no delay in waiting.

Results of league play:

Merchants League

Cornell's Gulf, Power Gas and Independent Life Insurance have a three way tie for the top spot in the Merchants League. Cornell's rolled the high series with a 2380 score. William Hill's 554 was high individual series and Ron Czekler's 212 was high single game.

A record of four wins with only six points scored against them, the Seahawks figure to spell trouble to the Rams. They took Ft. Pierce 7-0, Riviera Beach 20-0, Stuart 19-0 and Christopher Columbus 18-6.

The Rams have won over Stuart 28-6, Clewiston 7-0 and a non-conference team Lake Weir 39-0. With three men out the hard running Timmy Bass, Dan Hayes, guard and Joe Fontaine, end — the Rams will have to work hard Friday night.

We are sure our boys will be in there fighting, and remember the pro's fumble, have passes intercepted, and do funny things in a football game. As in any high school game, where enthusiasm is high, you'll be sure to not stay calm, cool and undisturbed.

Come out and root for the Rams! It'll even be granted the privilege of saying "aw shaw."

Fox League

East Lake Ties Melbourne 6-6

The East Lake Hawks and Melbourne played a 6-6 tie last Thursday night at East Lake's home field.

Melbourne scored in the first quarter by Terry Scott, and they led at the half 6-0.

After gaining possession of the ball in the third quarter, the Hawks marched 78 yards for their only score. Alvin Laws, the fleet fullback, took a pitch out from quarterback, Lewis Barber, and circled the left end about 20 yards for the score.

Good And Bad Play, Thrills, Spills Encouraging Offense, Discouraging Defense Mark Rams-Tiger Football

By Butlerhall

The final whistle in the Clewiston-Rams game Friday night was a great relief to Belle Glade fans for the Tigers "had the steam on" and were headed for pay dirt to win a game that the Rams should have already had locked away for two touchdowns.

Thrills, yes! suspense, yes! cause for whooping and drooping came alternating and quickly throughout the game, from the first play by the Tigers when Throp picked up a fumble and raced in for the first score, the seventh tally being made by Teddy Roman.

Throp intercepted two more Clewiston passes during the game, and each team recovered a fumble by the opponents.

Belle Glade made 15 first downs for 230 yards and Clewiston made 14 for a total of 162 yards. The Rams completed two of six passes for 15 yards, while the Tigers made 130 yards from nine passes out of 17. Each team intercepted two passes; each team punted four times, the Rams for an average of 29 yards and the Tigers for an average of 35 yards.

Bobcats Wallop Okeechobee 38-6

Lake Shores' night, in men and power, crushed Okeechobee Boys School 38-6 Friday with little Johnny Rowe, massive Charles Dotson and leader James Johnson in the cleaving roles.

Defensive standouts were Willie Kent and Willie Sneed. It was the second straight triumph for the Bobcats in the Southeast Conference.

Other Bobcat scores were picked up by Leroy Sears, Robert Cato, and Paul Simmons. The Bobcats will celebrate Homecoming October 28, 1960. Delray Eagles will be the opponents.

Belle Glade suffered eight penalties for 65 yards and the Tigers once for 15 yards. Clewiston received the kickoff and on the first play, Clarence Throp recovered a fumble and ramblomed 40 yards for pay dirt. Teddy Roman made the extra point with a kick thru the uprights.

Throp stopped a Tiger drive on the Rams 20 when he intercepted a Robertson pass. After moving the ball 35 yards, the Rams ran out of gas and the half-time score was Rams 7, Clewiston 0.

After receiving the half-time kickoff, the Rams lost the ball to Clewiston on the second play through pass interception. After carrying the ball to the Rams 15, Throp again intercepted in the end zone. Beginning at the twenty yard line, the Rams advanced the ball to the Tigers 36 and lost the ball on an intercepted pass.

The Rams completed two of six passes for 15 yards, while the Tigers made 130 yards from nine passes out of 17. Each team intercepted two passes; each team punted four times, the Rams for an average of 29 yards and the Tigers for an average of 35 yards.

Authority On Charm And Fashion Will Conduct Schools In Pahokee

Miss Alice Bell returns to Pahokee to again conduct her Charm and Fashion School under the sponsorship of the Xi Alpha Mu Chapter of Beta Sigma Phi. Mrs. Joan Tucker, preluctured, appeared on TV and worked with the studios in Hollywood, pursuing the secrets of the Stars on how to be more charming and beautiful. Her most recent trip was to Italy and Paris where she attended the most famous Fashion Opening in the world.

Miss Bell says, "Charm is not inherited, but developed, acquired, and can be had by every woman. Every woman can look as sharp as though she stepped from the fashion magazine for the same amount of money she is spending now."

Last year 85 ladies and 60 teenagers from the Glades area attended the Alice Bell Charm and Fashion School. Many of them are planning to repeat the course again this year. Tickets for the Adult Course may be acquired from any member of Xi Alpha Mu or by calling 7365 or 4651 in Pahokee. For the Teenage Course see any FFA Girl in Pahokee or their faculty advisor, Mrs. Boris Lane. The committee in charge of the School is Mrs. Genny Wilson, Mrs. Wilma Alley and Mrs. Donna Plumer.

sident, announces that the school will be held at the Elk's Club on Monday and Tuesday, October 24th and 25th. Ladies who are interested in attending the course may choose either 9:30 to 11:30 a. m. or 8:00 to 10:00 p. m. to attend. The charge for the course of two sessions is $5.00.

This year the teenage course will be sponsored jointly with the Future Homemakers Club of Pahokee High School. As a Service project Xi Alpha Mu gave the FFA girls the opportunity to sell the tickets to teenage girls and in return will be given half of the money from their tickets. The teenage course is given from 4:30 to 5:30 p. m. and is $2.50 for the two sessions.

Alice Bell is the south's foremost authority on charm, beauty and fashion. She is star of radio and TV and the author of two books on beauty and fashion. Miss Bell also writes a syndicated column on beauty for National and Atlanta papers. She is among the top ten in her field in the country.

Miss Bell recently toured the country from New York to Hollywood, California where she

"Different Program" Held At Rotary

Clarence Bailey, assisted by George Young presented a club program in that members were the "guest speakers."

Individual tables seating from six to eight had a "recorder" who instigated and conducted a round-table discussion of club improvement, program suggestions etc., and at the expiration of eight to ten minutes, the recorder reported on conclusions and suggestions from his table.

Active participation by everyone was spirited and indicated interest, and a number of encouraging suggestions were reported.

Mrs. Bert Roemer's two vocal numbers preceding the other part of the program were heartily applauded.

FRITZ STEIN, Jr., President tenderly hands to Ralph Kiddler a cowboy's tribute - a Ten-Gallon John B. - on behalf of PB County Cattlemen's Association, while Kent Price has that "me too" look.

Kiddler's 30-Yrs. In Glades "Cowology" Crowned With A "John B." And Praise

Thirty years ago a County Agent from Monroe, Mich., came to the Everglades Experiment Station with instructions "find out why the world's largest area of muck soils wasn't successful in raising cattle."

Fellow cattlemen of Palm Beach County presented Ralph Kiddler, Animal Husbandryman, with a plaque as a dignified and pedantic recognition of his contribution to present day successful beef production in the Glades.

Wednesday, at the Experiment Station's field day, the recognition took a crowning demonstration of cowboy felicity when a $100 John B. Stetson was placed on Ralph's head along with glowing tribute to Ralph's demonstration of successful beefing in the muck, of elimination of deadly parasites, proper use of minor elements in salt licks avoidance of poisonous weeds, and many other practices now accepted by Glades cattlemen as routine.

Nor Kiddler's present work at the Station concerns cross breeding particularly with Brahman's heat tolerance and the European beef type for conformation and early high poundage. Angus and Hereford breeds are predominant in the cross-breeding work now.

Mr. and Mrs. Kiddler have lived at the Station and are complemented with a son, Dr. Clarence Kiddler of Belle Glade, Mrs. James M. Wall of Chicago, and Mrs. Jack Overby of Wheaton.

Marine Band

Whether it is music to fill a special request for President Eisenhower or a complete band arrangement of some obscure foreign song—the United States Marine Band library has it! Of course, it is a little difficult to keep up with the changing conditions in the world today, but the library keeps on file, not only all the important American compositions, but the national anthems of the various countries and many of their most popular melodies. These constitute only a small part of the 10,000 scores kept in the Band library where, for over 150 years, marches, overtures and symphonic selections have been accumulated.

The varied programs played by the Marine Band make it necessary for the librarian, Eugene Kubits, to have at his fingertips suitable music for any occasion. In the ordinary course of events, he has to prepare music folios for weekly concerts, radio broadcasts, military parades and White House social functions; but almost every week he is faced with the problem of supplying music for some special event. When President Eisenhower entertained his West Point classmates of the 1915 class, the Marine music-librarian was able, in one hour, to prepare a program of songs played by that class plus many of the popular hits of their graduation year. In 1954 when a plaque honoring the Union soldiers was dedicated in the Arlington Amphitheater, the program consisted of music popular in the north during the Civil War.

The Marine Band frequently receives requests from new nations to "establish and exemplify the proper tempo and interpretation" of their national anthems. These requests, forwarded by the State Department, mean that the Band librarian must be prepared at all times to supply the anthems of new nations or the official music of those nations that have changed their form of government.

Although many music libraries do not retain copies of obsolete music, the Marine Band library must do so because the musicians play on patriotic occasions and at so many historic celebrations. The Marine Band received its first newspaper notice on July 4, 1890 when it played for the Society of the Cincinnati

"Hail to the Chief," which is used to announce the arrival of the President. The first copy of this music was first used in this country about 1816. Although the library has copies of the Walter Scott ballad dating back to 1819, the music was not used until 1890 when it was played by the Tyler administration. The President's young second wife, Julia Tyler, had traveled abroad extensively and was accustomed to hearing a musical salute when royalty entered the room. At her suggestion, the Marine Band introduced the custom of playing "Hail to the Chief" for the Chief Executive. In recent years the custom, now over 100 years old, has become official and the music can be played by the Marine Band for the President only.

Since the 1890's, when John Philip Sousa was leader of the Marine Band, each composition in the Band library has had its own catalogue number and has been kept in a heavy pasteboard folio bearing the title and number. Inside each folio the librarian maintains a program listing of every engagement at which the selection is played. This unique listing enables Colonel Albert Schepper, Director of the Marine Band, to program each engagement, without repetition of the music offered on a previous occasion.

The library is not only rich in marches overtures and symphonic selection, but also includes all of the classical, semi-classical and dance selections that have attained popularity during the past century. The compositions range from "Pop Goes the Weasel" to the heaviest works of Richard Wagner. Six of the original manuscripts of John Philip Sousa are counted among the more priceless scores—"Semper Fidelis," "Royal Welsh Fusiliers," "Marching Through Georgia," "Sheridan's Ride," "Ben Hur's Chariot Race"—and "The Star Spangled Banner."

As he arranged it for the Marine Band at the Yorktown Centennial in 1890, the music was first used in this country about 1816. Although the library has copies of the Walter Scott ballad dating back to 1819, the music was not used until 1890 when it was played by the Tyler administration. The President's young second wife, Julia Tyler, had traveled abroad extensively and was accustomed to hearing a musical salute when royalty entered the room. In recent years the custom, now over 100 years old, has become official and the music can be played by the Marine Band for the President only.

When the United States Marine Band appears here Oct. 25 at Belle Glade High Auditorium under the auspices of Rotary and Lions, the music will be drawn from one of the most extensive musical libraries in the world. In keeping with the tradition of the Corps, the Marine Band plays a seemingly exhaustive repertoire and "has the situation well in hand."

Clubs Will Luncheon At School Cafeteria
The Belle Glade High School has invited the Lions Club on Wednesday the Civitan Club on Thursday and the Rotarians on Friday to have their regular luncheon meeting at the Cafeteria. The regular school meal will be served.

Floridians spent $414,400,000 for public education last year; local elementary and high schools got $347,000, universities and junior colleges $53,000, schools for handicapped $13,500,000—all this from state and local funds. Florida's per capita is $78 against national average of $98.

Two committees on which Roberts serves were recently brought to Palm Beach County for "grass roots" conferences with county residents. The legislative committee on education which Roberts heads, met here Oct. 8 and the interim-committee on finance and taxation was brought here by Roberts on October 14.

Among committee appointments Roberts considers put him in top position to do something for his home county is the State Legislative Council—a 16-man delegation which acts as the research arm of the development of major legislation in the state. Roberts is the only House member from the 6th Congressional District to hold membership in this group.

Other committee appointments include vice chairman of the interim committee for appropriations and auditing, a group more commonly known as the "watch dog of state finances"; vice chairman of the state's agricultural service committee which worked out the first major reorganization of the agricultural department which will go into effect in 1961—the first such reorganization since the state charter was drawn in 1885; member of the roads and highways group now investigating bid practices in state highway construction; has served as a member of the legislative appropriations committee since 1955 and will likely be named to that group again during the coming session.

Roberts is credited with drafting the first major legislation designed to provide better housing for migrant workers. In his assignment as chairman of the State Migrant Labor committee he drafted a bill which gives the state board of health authority to license migrant camps after housing conditions meet required standards.

In his home town, Roberts serves as executive director of the Belle Glade Housing Authority—a project operated for migrant workers and their families.

On the national level, Roberts serves as Florida's representative on a Council of State Governments—a national research committee recommending state needs in the field of national legislation.

Roberts has an outstanding record as a civic leader and is a past president of the Resources Development Board; served as vice chairman of the Central and South Florida Flood Control District which gave him a first hand look at this section's water

He is a graduate of the University of Florida with a degree in agricultural engineering, a trustee in the Episcopal Church, a Major in the Active Army Reserve, member of the American Legion, Veterans of Foreign Wars and a member of the Masonic Lodge.

Michael And Foster

served as Chairman of the County Commission during his many years in office. Michael recognizes the potential of industrial development not to interfere with the county's world-wide attraction as a winter vacation land.

Agriculture and dairying are important activities in his particular district, and orderly expansion of these basic operations is a constant consideration.

Flood control, and proper conservation of our water resources have been a major activity with Michael as a Commissioner. He is serving as one of a five-man committee to study the Lake Worth Drainage District to study ways and means of providing adequate drainage to suburban areas now faced with threat of high water. He has long recognized the necessity of owner and government cooperation in the solution of flood conditions.

Michael's advocacy of zoning was recognized when he was named the first Chairman of the County Zoning Commission, and the County's zoning and building regulations have won state and national recognition. He is Chairman of the State Association of County Commissioners' zoning committee.

Mr. Michael is Chairman of the County's Migrant Aid Committee which has done outstanding work in this field on several occasions.

After graduating from Lake Worth High, the Commissioner received a BA degree from the U. of Fla. His teaching career was interrupted when he resigned as a teacher in the Pahokee High and went for a four-year stint with Uncle Sam in World War II. He returned as a Major, and belongs to the Carl Vogel-Donald Lee Legion Post No. 47 in Lake Worth.

Why Is The Printed Word So Important In Advertising?

THANKS TO OUR ADVERTISERS

During National Newspaper Week we want to take a moment to thank you, our advertisers, for the support you have given THE BELLE GLADE HERALD. Your patronage has been a vital part of our business. With your cooperation The Herald continues to promote the welfare of Belle Glade and its trading area.

1. It's Clear
2. It's Permanent
3. It's Believable

The Newspaper is the Greatest Advertising medium for many reasons. One of them is that it carries the power of the printed word. People believe in a message that is permanent, one that is written. They understand it better. Also, the newspaper, because of its permanence lets the reader choose his own time for absorbing the message. And once put down it can always be picked up again. The message that lives is the message that is written in the newspaper.
